VIEW OF GERMAN REDS ARE WIDELY DIVERGENT.

Correspondent Enters Fighting Zone
to Have Talk With Max Hoelz,
Who Favors Terrorism.

(BY CARL—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

HALLE (Saxony) March 30.—After passing five days in the revolutionary district of Saxony, a part of which time was passed in quest of the elusive Max Hoelz, Communist leader, during one of his notorious raids, The Times correspondent here has come to the conclusion that the Communist uprising in Germany is directed by the central Communist organization directing the entire uprising. The development varies, however, owing to the absence of contact between the leaders and the conflicting ambitions of these leaders.

Hoelz flies the Communist banner, but follows his own fancies. "General terrorism is essential," he says. "The bourgeoisie must be silenced."

Herr Schneider, a Communist editor in Eisenach, and adjutant to Hoelz, disagrees with his chief in this program. He disapproves of terror where it is not a military necessity. He would keep watch intact for the workers.

Koenig, head of the Communist council of workers, and also head of the Lenin industrial works, which the Communists seized, regards the entire uprising as ill-timed.

MANY COMPLICATIONS. This divergence of opinion is still further complicated by the diversity of methods. Behind the phrase, "domination by the proletariat," each Red leader has a different aim. As compared with the uprising following the Wolfgang-Kapp coup d'etat a year ago, this rising is less significant. Then the rising was a general strike throughout Germany in defense of security of the republic. This time military provocation, dubious and the uprising is limited to a Communist move outside of organized labor and against the republican government.

The correspondent passed half a day finding a chauffeur who was willing to enter the Mansfeld district with a motor car. Finally he found a chauffeur who was willing to enter the Mansfeld district with a motor car. Finally he found a chauffeur who was willing to enter the Mansfeld district with a motor car.

HOELZ FOR HOELZ. One of the chief objects of the trip was to find Hoelz, notorious as the leader of the Voelgendorff terrorists a year ago, who was reported to be leading the Mansfeld uprising. According to German press reports, Hoelz is only a myth. Other reports said he had been captured in Eisenach, while still others said he was dead in a hospital from wounds he had received. Others asserted that this man was an impostor; that the real Hoelz was in a Bohemian prison.

appointment which naturally follows failure, but as the details leak out there is a touch of the absurd attaching to the whole adventure which has reacted sharply against the former Emperor. It has also depressed the legitimists, who, while not desiring Charles to return, hoped for the future restoration of the Hapsburgs in the person of his son. The dramatic declaration of Charles to his friends here Friday that he would never leave Hungary alive, was repeated in Budapest when Admiral Horthy remonstrated against the future restoration of the Hapsburgs in the person of his son. The dramatic declaration of Charles to his friends here Friday that he would never leave Hungary alive, was repeated in Budapest when Admiral Horthy remonstrated against the future restoration of the Hapsburgs in the person of his son.

HORTHY IS FIRM. After Admiral Horthy had taken his determined stand in the Budapest palace interview against Charles's demand for restoration, the Emperor's position was made clear by the fact that he pointed to Gen. Lehar and exclaimed that there were three divisions of troops in West Hungary sworn to support him and ready to march upon Budapest. Gen. Lehar then turned to Gen. Pronyay and Hayjas and asked:

"What about your men?" Before either could reply, Admiral Horthy turned sharply on the two commanders and told them that if they attempted to answer they would be arrested.

STATES HIS TROOPS. Realizing he was alone, Gen. Lehar left the room and telephoned to his troops at Buda to move. Then Charles demanded that the nation be given a chance to express its will. Charles said that he agreed to this, but that the next request that Charles made, that he be permitted to reside in his old palace at Godollo, was out of the question. Admiral Horthy declared Charles must go out of Hungary the way he came.

Thereupon the ex-emperor left and entered an automobile which, with two body men, drove off. Then Charles, Gen. Lehar, Pronyay and Hayjas and Premier Teleky back to Steinauer.

STEINAMANGER MEET. (By CARL and ASSOCIATED PRESS.) STEINAMANGER (West Hungary) March 31 (via Budapest, noon).—Premier Teleky and Count Andrássy, former Minister, have been in debate a whole day on the conditions Emperor Charles has laid down under which the latter would be willing to sign a formal abdication. It is said that Charles is insisting on a stipulation on the validity of the claims of his son be recognized and embodied in the Hungarian constitution.

Charles also demanded payment of the civil list due since October, last, amounting to 150,000,000 crowns, and a liberal annual grant of time he was deposed formally by the National Assembly.

A double military cordon has been thrown around the house accommodating the former Emperor, the sentries allowing only persons with permission from Premier Teleky to pass inside. Charles is said to be feeling poorly, and to have spent a sleepless night.

After the conference with the former Emperor, Premier Teleky left for Budapest, but Count Andrássy is remaining here.

CROSSING FRONTIER. (By CARL and ASSOCIATED PRESS.) PARIS, March 31.—Former Emperor Charles crossed the frontier between Hungary and Austria on Saturday by producing a foreign passport which represented him as a Red Cross official. A Havas dispatch from Vienna says Hungary as far as possible indicated any notable degree of support for the ex-emperor from army circles, although it was said that in stopping at Steinamanger, on the Austrian frontier of Hungary, Charles had hopes of persuading the military forces there to support his desire for restoration.

Gen. Balutka, the Hungarian War Minister, was quoted Wednesday as saying:

"The former King is not supported by the troops. The army, as one man, is standing behind Regent Horthy. Charles is a prisoner rather than a guest at Steinamanger."

There is no confirmation from other sources of the foregoing report that ex-emperor Charles contemplates moving on Budapest. Direct advice from Hungary as far as have not indicated any notable degree of support for the ex-emperor from army circles, although it was said that in stopping at Steinamanger, on the Austrian frontier of Hungary, Charles had hopes of persuading the military forces there to support his desire for restoration.

TWO FOUND DEAD IN BURNED CABIN.

ORDER, SUICIDE AND ARSON
LAID TO ONE BY DIS-TRICT ATTORNEY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BERKELEY, Calif., March 31.—Following the discovery of the charred remains of a man and a woman, a mile from here, early today, the remains of Conrad and Helen Jenkins, Dist. Atty. Neville's investigation indicated that the man had killed the woman, fired in and then shot himself.
Neville said the body of Jenkins, a man aged 41, was found where the remains of the woman were, with a bullet through his head. He was lying on his back, with his arms crossed over his head, and his feet pointing toward the door of the cabin.
The District Attorney stated that the man had been living together with the woman in a small cabin on the shore of the San Francisco bay. An inquest was being held today by Justice of the Peace Westall.

TITULAR GLORY TO MISS ROWE.

Tourney Medalist Wins City
Golf Championship.

Miss Berdu, Runner-up, Plays
Excellent Game.

Arthur Letts, Jr., Grabs the Calcutta Club Trophy.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Miss Elizabeth Rowe tucked away the 1921 city golf championship for women by defeating Miss Natalie Berdu 2 and 1 in the final round of the championship flight over the municipal links yesterday afternoon. It was quite fitting that the medalist of the tourney should win the titular glory, though Miss Berdu played fully as good and as brilliant a game as Miss Rowe. It was the best match of the tourney, and the scores—23 for Miss Rowe and 21 for Miss Berdu—indicate the closeness.

A missed putt on the seventeenth hole—one of those one foot seemingly impossible to sub kind—quelled Miss Berdu's downfall. Aside from the putting department, where Miss Rowe had the edge, there was little to choose between the play of the two ladies. Their tee and iron shots were almost identical.

The tourney was the third annual battle for the city championship by the ladies, and while the entry list of twenty appears small, Mrs. Trubus of the greens committee says that it is the largest on record. It was at any rate entirely successful and the interest displayed augurs well for the future. The putting contest was won by Miss E. L. Rowe, her accurate putting accounting for twenty-seven putts on twelve holes. Mrs. Kidd was second with twenty-eight putts. Mrs. Trubus captured the consolation low gross prize, scoring 110-14.

In the first flight finale Mrs. Harvey Myers (6) conquered Mrs. C. A. Man (14) 3 and 1, and in the second flight Mrs. Herbert Kidd was victorious Mrs. H. H. Howland defaulting to her.

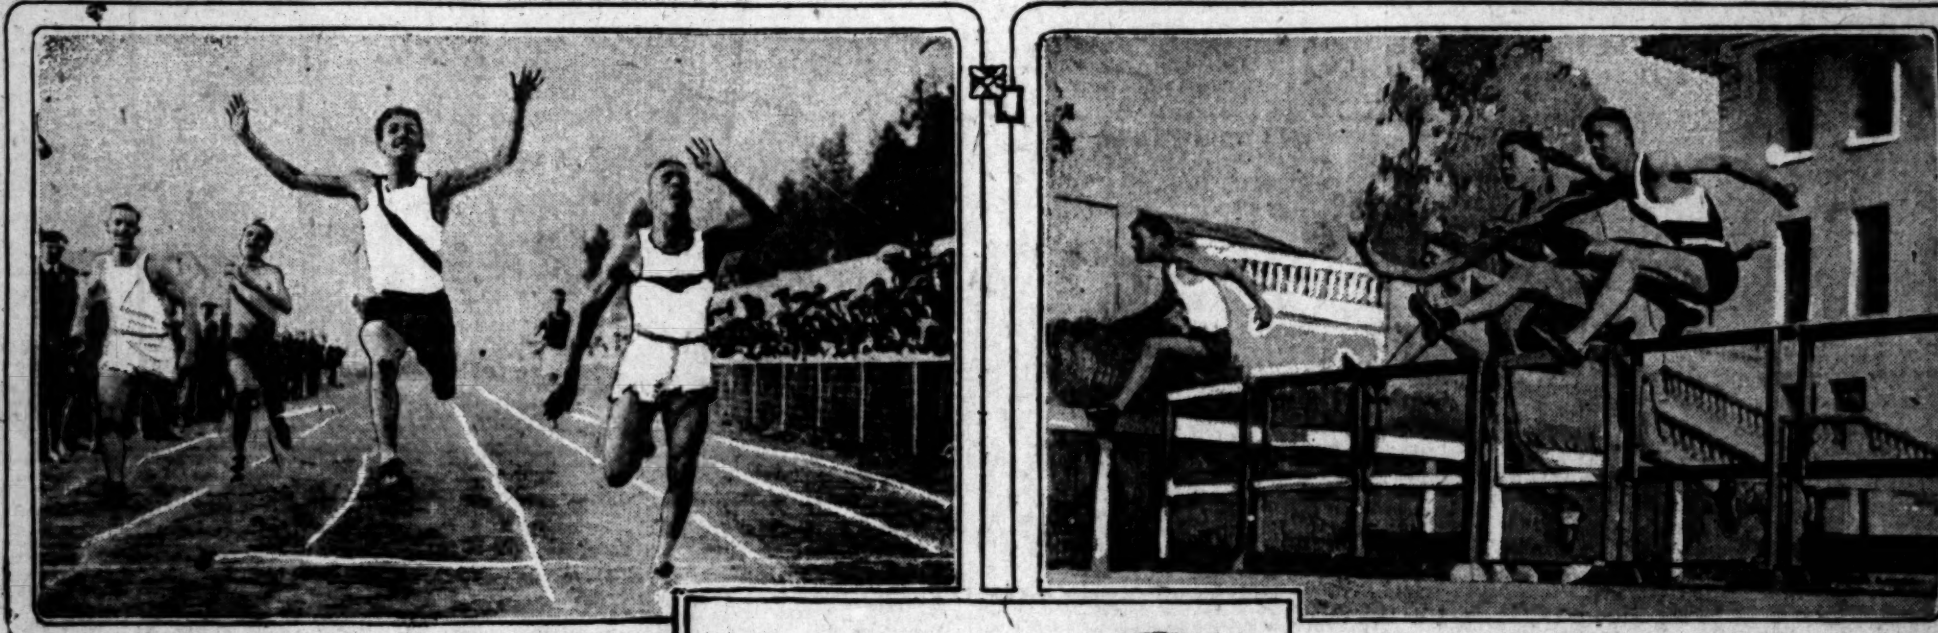

With the women's city championship out of the way, the annual men's tourney will be started Saturday at Griffith Park with the play-off in the qualifying round. Those who can't get away from the clubhouse on Saturday will be allowed to display their talents on Sunday.

"Pat" Patterson's figuring on a championship flight of thirty-two with two other flights of sixteen.

There will be plenty of flattery up for the sharpshooters to get at—best gross, best net, second best gross and second best net, as well as the usual cups for winners and runners-up in the various flights.

Bowling Over City-Meet Records in Preliminary Heats at Patterson Field.

MYLES IS SOME SPRINTER.

Sixteen-Year-Old Colored Lad Breaks City
Record; Finals Tomorrow.

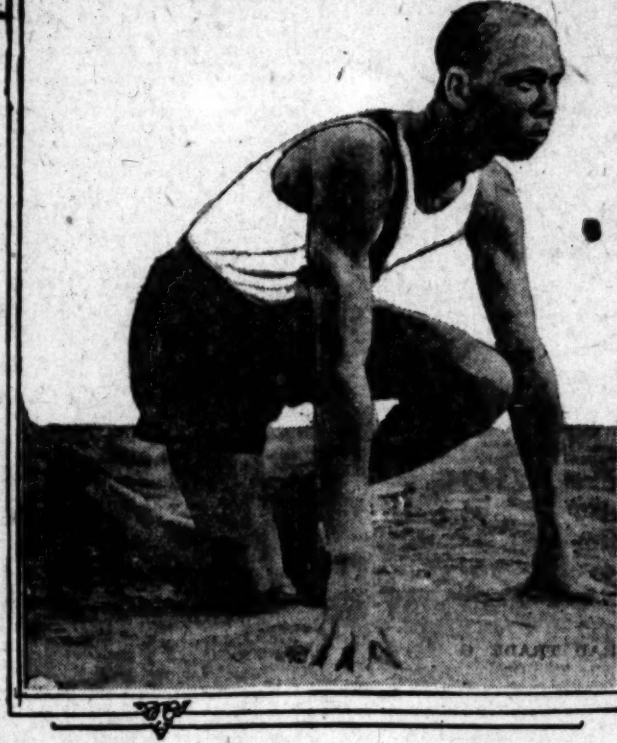

Little 16-year-old Tommy Myles, a bow-legged colored youngster, halting from Lincoln High, provided the big sensation of the preliminary heats of the city track meet yesterday when he broke young Redman's 220-yard record of 22 1/2 seconds by one fraction in winning the fourth heat.

Red Towle of Manual did just about as well when he trimmed Jack Huston of Lincoln in the high hurdles in 16 flat, three-fifths of a second better than the record. A dusky person named Stoward of Pasadena High ran his heat of the 100-yard dash in 16 1/2, thereby tying the existing city meet record.

Lincoln and Manual Arts nailed a large share of the honors in the preliminary trials, and will go into the city meet tomorrow afternoon at Occidental College favorites. The Raispliters qualified four men in the 100-yard dash, four in the 220-yard dash, three in the quarter, and a pair in each hurdle race. Manual qualified a pair in the century, a pair in the furlong, and three men in each of the hurdle events.

The gentlemen of color were absolutely the whole show in the sprints, particularly in the century. All four heats in the short sprint were won by colored boys, and another dusky youth grabbed a second. These young men won three out of the four heats in the furlong, and matched one of the second.

Giving Father Time a Terrible Chase.

TEAMING TO BE BARRED.

Emitting loud and anguished groans in union, Eddie Hearn and Tommy Milton yesterday told the Los Angeles Speedway Association that they believe there exists a conspiracy between the four Deussenberg drivers to use teamwork in the running of the American sprint championships at Beverly on April 10.

"All this talk about Murphy and Barles being the bitter rivals of Fulton and Thomas is so much bunk," said Hearn. "Deussenberg is pulling that stuff just to get people to overlook the teaming that the drivers have planned. As a matter of fact, they are trying to fix matters so that nobody outside the 'trust' has a chance at the money and hope to throw the officials and the other drivers of the scene."

CROSS VS. NEFF TONIGHT.

This is the big night when Leach Cross finds out whether he is a fighter or not. The former lightweight championship contender meets hardbitten Chet Neff in the final four-round bout of a program to be held at the bicycle stadium at Washington and Hill streets tonight for the benefit of the wounded soldiers. Aside from the worthy cause the program is good enough to jam the arena and probably will, as the foxiest battler in the ring and always was possessed of a murderous wallop in either hand. He has been training hard, using such tough eggs as Bert Colman as sparring partners and will attempt a "comeback" in the lightweight division if he shows any signs of his old-time form in the arena tonight.

BILL CAMPBELL MEDALIST.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SANTA BARBARA, March 31.—W. W. Campbell of the Virginia Club, Long Beach, won the medal round here today in the second annual golf tournament of the La Cumbre County Club, scoring an admirable 77.
Horace Ingalls of Annandale was second—a stroke behind. Seventy-six players took off for the qualifying round, enough to form five flights when the pairings were made tonight.

SAGEHENS TRIMMED BY BEARS.

California Varsity Track
Team Smear It on Pomona
Lads Good and Proper.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The California varsity track team defeated the Pomona elder artists, 88 to 29 today, on the California oval. The score as it stood at the close was low because of the fact that California did not attempt to enter men in events in which Pomona had no men.

Two events were left out, the relay and the javelin. As a track meet, it was full of surprises, the first of which was the defeat of Capt. "Pinky" Sprout in the mile by "Weegee" Mejia of California and Moreman of Pomona. The Jerry captain started his race, but after appearing apparently fresh at the beginning of the last lap, he was unable to stage his usual sprint to a victory.

CREDIT TO VICTOR.
Credit should be given the victor, though. Mejia has always run just a step behind Sprout, and it had often been predicted that he would beat "Pinky" in, and today he turned the trick. Moreman just beat Sprout to the tape.

The second surprise of the day was the defeat of "Oxy" Hendrickson, the star quarter-mile of the University of California, at the hands of McDonald. The diminutive little runner took the lead from the first gun and never relinquished it.

NOT HIS RACE.
It was very evident, however, that Hendrickson was not running his usual race, for he did not put the pep into the sprint on the back stretch that he usually does. McDonald won from Hendrickson by about a foot, and Hendrickson in turn finished about a foot ahead of Saxby of California.

Daggs of Pomona was the big point-winner of the day, annexing 15 points for the southern college. Daggs won both hurdles and took the 220-yard sprint away from Arkeley, after running fifth at 200 yards. The time of the race was not particularly fast, considering the men in it. Hutchinson did not run. (Excluded from the race.) Second, Sprout (C) third, Time 2:20. (Excluded from the race.) Third, Sprout (C) third, Time 2:20. (Excluded from the race.) "Quite the contrary, I assure you. I got them right here in Los Angeles—at Young's—and they're deucedly inexpensive!"
"Say not so. I shall dash madly to their nearest store and procure some for myself."

KILLEFER IS ON THE JOB AGAIN.

Angel Chief Resumes Playing After Head Injury.

Sixes Invade Malar Park Grass Diamond.

Seraph Regulars Win with Ota Crandall at Helm.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Radiant Red Killefer was about again yesterday, and now regards his head as strong enough to stick it in front of another slant.

Red played his head in training Wednesday, and then immediately took it out of training, and kept it there over night. Prior to this, Mr. Killefer had conditioned himself thoroughly from the ears down. Desiring to get his head toughened up also, he stuck it in front of a swift slant by George Lyons, and the resultant resonant thump showed that his upper end is not yet ripe.

The blow landed on Red's head the size of an Easter egg, and he highly colored, but that did not much satisfy him, because eggs have dropped in price. A few months ago that egg-sized lump on Mr. Killefer's head would have given him an appearance of affluence.

The blow was more severe than Red usually takes in the spring, but he was in a hurry to get his head in shape. Usually, for the first week he takes only light taps on his thought tank, but this one was calculated to cause sparks and stars. Red felt for a few seconds that his head was incandescent, and imagined himself an electrolite on Pasadena's main street.

Every season Mr. Killefer gets soaked with more pitched balls than any other player in the league. He has to count the bumps, and because of this he has to train in unusual ways.

Should John F. Powers or Ed R. Malar ever dispose of their baseball holdings, nothing would suit Los Angeles better than to have William Wrigley, Jr., succeed either of them as owner of one of the southern teams.

Both of the aforementioned have done much for baseball on the Coast in general and in Los Angeles particularly. Each of them usually has a pennant-winner or a contender in the fall.

Malar stated last winter that he expected to dispose of his club, owing to other and more important interests. Strangely, Wrigley's name has never been linked, even semi-officially, with the purchase of the Vernon property. However, it is said the gum magnate would consider buying the Los Angeles franchise, providing he could secure all the stock. Powers put the soft pedal on all talk concerning such a deal by declaring he has no desire to sell.

Should there be a change in either club later, Wrigley would be about the biggest asset the league could land. He has practically unlimited resources, and he seems to have that magic touch which brings success although it is less a magic touch than sound judgment and business acumen.

One of the Los Angeles clubs would dovelight snugly with his ownership of the Chicago Cubs, and reduce expenses at both ends. It would be an arrangement for individual reciprocity, or of mutual benefit to himself, so to speak. That is, Mr. Wrigley would be helping Mr. Wrigley, and they are both the same guy.

His Chicago club could send young players here for development, and his Los Angeles or Vernon club would supply the Cubs with summer players. Also, when his Chicago

CINCINNATI, March 31.—Frank C. Hancock, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds since 1890, died at a hospital here yesterday. He was born in Lancaster, Mass., May 11, 1844, and was one of the oldest men in the game.

In 1884 he managed the Providence Nationals in the season which was followed by the first world's championship series. Providence won the title.

players were slipping he could send them here to finish up.

A major league club really should own two minor league franchises, one Class A and the other Class AA, providing it will put them in profitable territory. Thus it can incubate its own recruits to a very considerable extent.

The Swashes won't get a vote in Pomona, having moved into Los Angeles yesterday. Bill Kenworthy and his athletes enjoyed the greenery of Malar Park in Vernon for a couple of hours after the Tigers had practiced themselves into a state of exhaustion. Kenworthy brought Red up here from Pomona, not to escape local politics, but because they have only a hard-boiled diamond in that city, and he desires to picket his athletes on a grass field for a few days before tackling the sand.

The Swashes, who are accustomed to a sanded track, added some, but are expected to look better their second day here, which will be today. Mr. Kenworthy, a gentleman and a scholar, is glad to extend the use of his park to the coaches and players of the other teams.

It is regarded as somewhat doubtful now whether Curly Brown will report to Seattle. He failed to answer the last wire sent him by President Klepper, should he neglect to report this, in no way affect the status of Curly Brown with the line rounds to a finish in the afternoon.

Doc Crandall went the full route, and defeated the irons, 5 to 4, which would seem to indicate that the eminent horse physician is being groomed to pitch the opener. Dumovich and Hughes chucked for the losers.

Joe Aldridge, still in the sore and yellow of last fall, is expected by some to report today, although Killefer himself doesn't believe Vic will, so far, forget himself as to report prior to the first game of the season.

Bids for dusting off Jim Morley will be received at any time now. It is reported that Sam Appel has offered to do the job for nothing, if they will allow him to dust off Jim with a ball bat.

SIXTEEN MEN TO REPRESENT U. OF C.

THE A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

BERKELEY, March 31.—Sixteen men have been chosen to represent the University of California in the California-Michigan track meet on the Berkeley oval April 9. Of the number, Hendrixson, who is to run the 440-yard dash, holds the present intercollegiate A.A.A. record for that distance, 48 2-5 seconds. Hutchinson, who will compete in the sprints, finished two-fifths of a second behind Padlock in the 220-yard dash. Padlock made the distance in 40 4-5 seconds. Muller, entered for the discus throw, high jump, broad jump and javelin throw in the coming meet, took part in the Olympic games last year, taking second in the high jump.

HEAVER SHORE PLEASES ESSICK.

Bix ex-Yankee Pitches Fine Nine-Inning Game.

Vernon Regulars Hang It on the Yannis.

Bengals in Great Fettle for Opening Contest.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Bill Essick was the happiest man in Southern California last night consequent on the splendid showing made by Ernie Shore, the new Bengal pitcher, who came from the New York Americans.

Ernie had a full nine-inning try-out yesterday afternoon, mounding for the regulars against the Yannis at Malar Park.

The big heaver was in excellent fettle, shutting out the Yannis, the score being 3 to 0. The flowering of Shore at this early stage of proceedings takes a big load off Essick's mind as he banks on Ernie being one of his winning twirlers this year.

ON THE BENCH.

Shore was practically kept on the bench all last year by Miller Huggins, but being an open secret that he bore a grudge against his giant chucker. After a pitcher is out of the game for a year it requires some time for him to get back into good shape again. Essick feared that Shore would hardly get ready before the season was well advanced. His early rounding into condition nullifies all of Essick's worries.

Love protected for the Yannis yesterday and showed to good advantage. Slim's in good fettle right now and is ready to offer his best wares to the Bengals. Barring an injury to his left arm he should have a good season and unless our prophecy runs down at the heel, he should be up among the leaders by the time next October rolls around.

IN FINE SHAPE.

The Vernon team will leave here next Monday night for Sacramento in tip-top shape—in fact, the team is in the best physical condition in the Coast League, and should provide a good season and unless our prophecy runs down at the heel, he should be up among the leaders by the time next October rolls around.

MAY BE SLIM.

Essick has not yet hit upon whom he will shoot at Bill Rodgers on the opening day in the heaven line, but if Wild Bill should select Paul Fitterole the cards, Slim Love will probably carry his 11-foot-5 onto the Malar for the Tigers.

Unless something unforeseen crops up between now and Tuesday, the Vernon line-up will be: Hyatt, first; Sawyer, second; Gorman, short; Smith, third; High, left; Chubb, center; Long, right; and Hannah, catcher. The wisecracks are picking Essick as a surety to copy four out of the seven, and would not be surprised at five—but, let's wait and see.

TOM MIX WILD CATS IN DIAMOND DEBUT.

The baseball has invaded the picture studios and at White Sox Park, East Fourth street, on Sunday, next, the "Tom Mix Wild Cats" will make their diamond debut. "Playing a nine headed by William Russell, and titled the "William Russell All Stars" will be the team in the game. Each is an ardent baseball fan, and in the younger days was a ball player or renown.

The public is invited. There will be no admission charge. Mix insists that spectators must understand that they come for their own risk. As a general precaution, two ambulances will be in attendance.

The "Mix Wild Cats" has for a personnel cowboys, actors, camera men, directors and others who work with the star in picture making. With engaging humor, Mix admits that his is a tough outfit. Russell's "Alley Rats" likewise come from that player's own company, and none wears a wrist watch or uses perfume. Already rivalry has reached the tense point. Butlin boards on the Fox lot are covered with defiant challenges, insinuations and personal abuse, all bearing signatures of either Mix or Russell.

ALEXANDER GIANTS TO PLAY TOMORROW.

GRAPPLERS TO TRY FOR TITLE.

Amateur Championship to be Decided at L.A.A.C.

National Events Scheduled for Next Thursday.

Wrestlers Entered from All Part of America.

The amateur wrestling championships of the United States will be decided at the Los Angeles Athletic Club next Thursday and Friday nights. This is an important national event sought by centers throughout the country, and comes in the nature of a tribute to this city. The list of entries is exceptionally large and there is every reason to believe that the meet will outclass any ever held on this Coast.

COME FROM EAST.

This tournament, according to Chairman George W. Retzer of the L.A.A.C., wrestling communities will be truly and fully representative of those clubs, colleges and other schools which are a part of the curriculum, and the country as a whole will be on the mat here two nights. Last year's national champion, Ed McKeen, will be here from the East to defend their title, coming from New York, Chicago and Gary, Ind. Strong teams will be here from the Multnomah Athletic Club, Portland; Spokane Athletic Club; Olympia Club; and the British Columbia team, which means that the north will press hard for honors.

TO BE ON DECK.

The south coast, too, will be on deck with its best school and club grapplers, and the Navy will be strikingly in evidence. Four of the best wrestlers in the country will represent the Pacific Fleet and they may be expected to win. Nothing is more so much as to pin down the shoulders of the civilian scrummers of the large scholastic and athletic institutions. Altogether there will be in excess of fifty entries. In case the list is too large for all to be able to enter in two nights, they will be continued the third evening.

HOLDS BARRED.

All the bouts will be catch-as-catch-can, and will be held in full Nelson and hammer lock barred. This means that the battling will be more scientific as well as faster, and the barring of the foe holds as a sport of quality. Brute strength no longer is the most essential factor, but speed and technique. The referee will be a better opportunity to render fair decisions. The bouts will be held in the L.A.A.C. gymnasium, and will be of universal approval of the fans.

MEDAL PRIZES.

Prizes will be regulation A.A.U. medals, gold and silver, and a trophy of silver to the winner. The tournament will be open to the public, nominal admission being charged, and ladies will be admitted free of charge. A broad event of this kind never has been seen here a good attendance is expected. It is an opportunity for the public to view the best mat athletes of the entire nation in action.

Los Angeles Athletic Club grapplers are reporting for work daily in many instances, and at least three times a week and all are reported in the pink. Art Gilman has temporarily abandoned his ranch to get in tip-top shape for the tournament. Many others are busy in the gym, including Gus Cusum, Mark Toban, John Guernier, Marvin Patten, Lester Doyle, Alan Ferguson, Babe Doyle, Sallian, Vias West and Clark Conner.

PLAN FOUNDED OF WORKERS' COLLEGE.

LABOR LEADERS AND EDUCATORS OUTLINE VIEWS OF NEW SOCIAL ORDER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

KATONAH (N. Y.), March 31.—Labor leaders and educationalists, who announced that they are for a new social order, met here today behind closed doors to plan the founding the first resident workers' college in America.

"The plans to be discussed," said the official announcement of the conference, "are based on four fundamental tenets:

"First, that a new social order is needed, and is coming in the way."

"Second, that education will not only hasten its coming, but will reduce to a minimum and perhaps do away entirely with a resort to violent methods."

"Third, that the workers are the ones who will usher in this new order."

"Fourth, that there is immediate need for a workers' college with a broad curriculum, located amidst healthy country surroundings where the students can completely apply themselves to the task in hand."

Among those participating in the meeting, it was said, are John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who was chairman of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, which conducted the steel strike; James Mather, president of the State Federation of Labor of Pennsylvania; William Z. Foster, leader of the 1919 steel strike; John Brophy, district president United Mine Workers; and Joseph Schlosberg, secretary of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. An official statement was to be issued at the close of the sessions tomorrow.

A southpaw—Arthur Letta, Jr., capped the first prize in the weekly Catnappa Club tourney at the Pasadena Golf Club yesterday. His score was a gross 78, altogether too good for a man with an 11 handicap. Letta was dropping his putts from all over the green, and his net total of two strokes, better than George E. Ray's net 83 on 22 handicaps. The summary follows:

State Open Champion Eddie Loos was feeling fit on Wednesday. He went out and hung up a 66 over the Pasadena Golf Club links—a record since 1914. Loos was starting the week-end tourney at the Pasadena Golf Club on the eighth and ninth holes, where he eventually took 37 strokes. He even bettered his record. He was out in 24 and home in 32. He scored 3-2-3-3 on the last four holes—birds in each instance. His score bettered par by four strokes.

George O'Neill, sports manager at the Pasadena Golf Club, left yesterday morning with A. D. Lasker of the Club for a visit to San Francisco and Oakland to watch the Cubs play. Incidentally they will visit the Yosemite Valley. O'Neill will be back in a week—in time to witness the wind-up of the southern amateur championships.

The Hotel Green cup will be played for Saturday at the Pasadena Golf Club. This will be the last of the tourneys for the players of the Pacific Coast. Huntington and Green, this season, and a hot battle is expected. P. H. Travis of the Morland won the Huntington cup last week.

San Gabriel players will decide their club championship on Saturday morning, when finals in all sports are scheduled. A. Getty (13) is scheduled to meet E. B. Plank (12) in the first flight. George H. Lockwood (12) and the fourth flight, C. W. Cook (8) and E. S. Burnham (13) will fight it out. The third flight honors have been decided. O. W. Robinson (9) defeating N. Berrie (13) and 1.

Mr. Pantages, in a telegram to Mr. Milne, stated if his offer was accepted by Mr. Rickard and Washington authorities would not allow the contest to be held in the State, he would next look to Vancouver, B. C., as a possible site.

The Dempsey-Carpenter fight may be held at Tijuana, Lower California, if an offer of $50,000 for the fight made by Alexander Pantages, theatrical man, to Tex Rickard is accepted. In the southwest part of the country, where several persons have been killed and wounded, and in the village of Gray, where a colonial was assassinated, and three gendarmes were killed.

The dispatch says an attack was made on the municipal building in Paucartambo, where seven persons were killed and many wounded, and that disorders had occurred at two other points. The message says that details relative to the cause of the trouble are lacking.

"Tanalac has done me more good than all other medicines and treatment combined," said R. H. I frequently had such bad spells with my stomach I could hardly stand. I was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and felt miserable generally. Nothing I could find gave me more than a little temporary relief, and I gradually grew worse. "About two years ago I got hold of Tanlac and two or three bottles put me in splendid condition. Since then Tanlac has been my standby. Whenever I get to feeling a little off I get a bottle or two and it puts me in fine shape. I eat heartily now, sleep fine, have no distress after meals, and in fact, am enjoying splendid health. I have personally told dozens of people about Tanlac, for I know it is just the thing for those who suffer as I did." ROTARIANS IN ANNUAL MEET.
Social Club Opens Convention at Long Beach.
Two Thousand Attend First Big Session.
District Governor Delivers an Inspiring Address.

LONG BEACH, March 31.—Approximately 2000 Rotarians were present at the opening session here today of the sixth annual district convention embracing the States of California, Nevada, Arizona and the Hawaiian Islands. Before the curtain rose a Boy Scout color-bearer and bugler appeared and the reveille was sounded. Then as "The Star Spangled Banner" was played by the Municipal Band from back stage the asbes was raised and District Governor Leslie E. Everts, of San Francisco, opened the convention. On the stage presidents of clubs, former district governors and convention speakers were seated. Over the proscenium arch American flags were suspended and in the center of the stage a large picture of the convention and Governor Everts, of San Francisco, is seated at a table. The invocation was given by Rev. Grant Evans of Santa Barbara. He was formerly pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Long Beach. His prayer was in the spirit of Rotary and asked the divine power to enable Rotarians to do more justly, to love more truly and to more fully carry out the example of service given to the world by Jesus of Nazareth. ROTARY PHILOSOPHY. Rotary philosophy, lines along which Rotary functions, the purpose of the Rotary and Rotary service were the salient features of the conference, addressed by District Governor Leslie E. Everts. Some of the striking features of the address were: "I wonder how many of us give due consideration to the fact that we are constantly surrounded by and subject to the various forces of divine power? Some of these forces we understand, many are unknown to us, yet all are continually shaping the lives of men and controlling the destinies of nations. "In thinking of profits, let us not narrow our vision to a consideration of money profits only. The most satisfactory profits in life cannot be measured in the coin of the realm, more often, these profits are in lasting friendships and in the satisfaction we receive from doing good and helping others. "If Rotary increases the serving power of men, then the men of Rotary, through their individual efforts, will build a better and happier world. Jack Williams, president of the Long Beach Rotary Club, delivered the address of welcome to the visitors. Charles E. Christy of Phoenix, Ariz., whose appearance was a signal for a demonstration by the Arizona delegation, responded. Ranking highest among Rotarians in attendance at the conference is Raymond T. Havens of Kansas City, vice-president of the international organization. Havens is one of the outstanding figures in Rotary in the United States, and from the time he arrived at the Virginia yesterday afternoon until late last evening he was kept busy greeting visiting delegates. It is Havens who is bringing the official message from the international organization of the twenty-third district conference, and it is hinted that he bears some important tidings as to the proposed adoption of a new international constitution for Rotary. GIVE BANQUETS TO TWO LOS ANGELES MEN.
PASADENA HOTELS PROVIDE LAVISH ENTERTAINMENT FOR ORGANIZATIONS.

PASADENA, March 31.—Los Angeles men were honored at two big events held in Pasadena tonight. One was the banquet and ball given by Pasadena Knights Templar at the Hotel Maryland in honor of Gen. Robert Wankowski and his staff from Los Angeles. There were covers for 300 at the banquet, comprising members of Pasadena Commandery and their wives, and the guests of honor. An exhibition drill by the commandery drill team preceded the ball later in the main ballroom. The ball was attended by a big throng. The other big event honored Robert Lee Holladay of Los Angeles and was a banquet of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association held in the novel patio-room of the Hotel Vista del Arroyo. Mr. Holladay is the retiring president of the association. The banquet was held here in compliment to C. E. W. Moore, manager of the Vista del Arroyo, who completed and opened that hotel this year. The speakers included former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, W. R. MacFarlane of Los Angeles, Sam Porter of San Diego and other notables in the hotel world of California. Special entertainment was given during the evening under the direction of Prof. Henri Van Praag, musical director at the Vista del Arroyo.

TAKE COUNTY CASES.
Turkey Assigned New Territory—Visitor in Near Accident.

POMONA, March 31.—Dep. Dist. Atty. Raymond I. Turney has been assigned to handle all county cases coming up in Pomona. He is taking the place of George Glover, who has handled the Pomona cases for some time, and who has now been transferred to work in the District Attorney's office. CAR DAMAGED. Driving his car into the curb near the Pomona Valley Hospital, on North Garey avenue late last night, E. D. Evans of Salt Lake City averted a collision with a Pacific Electric street car and probably serious injuries to himself. As it was, he escaped injury but damaged the front end of the machine considerably. VETERAN EMPLOYEE. The Pomona postoffice will observe tomorrow the twenty-fifth anniversary of free delivery. S. H. Shevman is the only postman on the present force who has served continuously since the inauguration of free delivery in Pomona, and will tomorrow place a silver star on the sleeve of his uniform, significant of the twenty-five years' service.

BUSINESS MEN ASK ENGINEER'S REMOVAL.
SANTA ANA, March 31.—Charging that the department of County Engineer J. L. McBride is "grossly top heavy with extravagance, waste and inefficiency," the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, in a report placed on file with the Associated Chambers of Commerce, asks that the department be reorganized. The report and recommendation covering eighteen typewritten pages came as a surprise at the Associated Chambers of Commerce annual meeting here last night, although something of the kind had been mentioned.

The report asked that the supervision of road work be turned back to the supervisor plan or that the present county engineer plan be put on a high standard of efficiency of which it is susceptible. The report criticized the book-keeping system of the county offices and declared the books are kept in reference to antiquated and impractical State laws and not in accordance with intelligent information or scientific accounting methods. MAKES CHANGES IN FOREST SUPERVISION. PORTERVILLE, March 31.—F. P. Cunningham, forest supervisor of Sequoia National Forest, with headquarters in Porterville, has gone to Lone Pine, Inyo county, to transfer the Mt. Whitney district of Sequoia Forest to the Inyo National Forest, and to work up comprehensive fire prevention plans for the coming season. The transfer of the Mt. Whitney district, which includes about 450,000 acres, on which 6500 head of cattle from Orange Valley, Inyo county, grazed annually, to the Inyo National Forest is purely administrative.

REFUSES PROBATION.
RIVERSIDE, March 31.—Declaring that the criminal record of C. A. Burt was such that he could not approve his application for probation, Probation Officer C. W. Mathews today advised Judge Craig of his decision, and Burt was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin for issuing worthless checks. As an offset to thirty-two worthless checks and other bad paper turned over to the probation officer was Burt's young wife and attractive little daughter. It is alleged that Burt had been separated from his wife, but that a reconciliation was effected shortly after his arrest. Most of the checks had been given to Mexican laborers who had been employed to cut wood.

NEW TRAIN COMMANDER.
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 31.—It was officially announced at Naval headquarters today that Admiral H. A. Field, until recently commandant at the Puget Sound Navy yard, will assume command of the train division of the fleet tomorrow. Admiral Field, who is replacing Rear-Admiral Joseph L. Jayne, recently stricken with paralysis, will command the train from the cruiser Frederick, which will be his flagship. HOLD CHILD'S FUNERAL. WHITTIER, March 31.—Funeral services for Arthur Franklin Chenoweth, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chenoweth of North Whittier Heights, were held this afternoon at George R. Whipple of the First Christian Church officiating. The child met a tragic death by eating sleeping tablets while visiting at a neighbor's home. Medical assistance was summoned at once, but all efforts to save the lad were unavailing.

NEW VALLEY HOME.
Landmark at Imperial Hazed to Make Room for Modern Residence.

IMPERIAL, March 31.—Impetus has been given building activities in Imperial Valley by initial work on a new residence to be built for Virgil Patterson. The structure will be one and one-half stories, and will be equipped with modern conveniences. Contractor Herbert Tughrfarber expects to have the residence completed by the fore part of May. Construction work on the house necessitated wrecking one of the city's oldest landmarks. WILL FIGHT BEETLE. "Grapevine Hoplia" Causes Campaign of Elimination in Valley. EL CENTRO, March 31.—Presence in several Imperial Valley vineyards of a small black beetle, known as the grapevine hoplia, has been discovered, according to a warning issued by County Horticultural Commissioner Walte, who has informed the viticulturists of the best methods for combating the pest. The beetle is said to remain at the base of the grape stock during the day and come out on the plants at night to eat off the buds, in most cases as soon as they begin to swell. A solution of two to six pounds of arsenate of lead to 100 gallons of water, sprayed on the vines, is the remedy offered by Mr. Walte, who also states that the grounds should be well cultivated, especially around ditches, checks, borders and fences in the fight against the pest. DINNER FOR ADMIRAL. SAN DIEGO, March 31.—Admiral Hugh Rodman will entertain with a dinner this evening aboard the U.S.S. New Mexico for Rear-Admiral Roger Welles, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, and Capt. William V. Pratt, destroyer force commander. Admiral Rodman expected all the destroyers in the harbor this morning. The New Mexico, flagship of the fleet, will leave here tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock for Los Angeles Harbor.

California POPPY SKIM-MILK
-in powder form

Your doctor will tell you that many people have been misinformed regarding the food value of skim milk. Skim milk surpasses the food value of milk or eggs. It contains the valuable tissue-building proteins. California Poppy Skim Milk produces fresh skim milk instantly. You simply add three rounded teaspoons to each glass of water and mix. Skim milk made from California Poppy Skim Milk costs you only 7 cents a quart. And it is just as sweet as fresh milk—it has the exact flavor. It doesn't spoil—even after the can is opened—there is no waste. You always have it on hand and never have to delay your cooking because you are out of milk. You should use California Poppy Skim Milk in all of your cooking in the same proportion and the same manner that you use fresh milk. California Poppy Skim Milk is made by removing the water and butter fat from fresh, pasteurized milk, which leaves the milk in the form of a fine white powder. Nothing is added—it is pure. Because of its concentrated form, California Poppy Skim Milk can be used as a substitute for eggs. It will make as light a cake as eggs, and it is as easy to mix. By adding California Poppy Skim Milk to this cream and mixing thoroughly, a heavy cream of delicious taste may be obtained. This will be found excellent in making ice cream. You can make a delicious beverage from California Poppy Skim Milk by using a little more of the powder than usual. Reduced to the consistency of cream, it can be used on cereals or in beverages. It is a wonderful chocolate substitute. To make sour milk, you allow it to stand in a warm place for a few hours. Excellent artificial butter-milk can be made by the use of California Poppy Skim Milk (sold by druggists). Cottage cheese may also be made from it. See cans, 10 cents; 10-oz. cans, 30 cents; 15-oz. cans, 35 cents. At all leading groceries. PAGE & COMPANY, 210 East Ninth St., Telephone 62979.

CHARLES MARSHALL, OTHELLO OF OPERA, ARRIVES.

By Edwin Schallert.

Having traveled directly across the country to appear in the opera "Otello" Monday night, Charles Marshall, tenor and one of the leading stars of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, arrived in this city last evening. It is his first visit to the West, and he came on ahead of the main body of the company, which is expected to arrive in about two days. As a matter of fact, one of his prime ambitions at the present moment is to catch a tuna. Therefore, he is planning a trip to Santa Catalina Island before leaving the Coast.

Mr. Marshall is singing but one role with the Chicago Opera Company this season, this being "Otello." He is rather shy of the opera world, but he has been a specialist, and of all the roles he sings "Otello" is his favorite. His last appearance in the part was in Baltimore, following five renditions in New York.

Interpreters of the Verdi hero have been at a premium in this country since the time of Leo Slezak, and "Otello" has consequently been out of the repertoire. It was only after a diligent search of Europe that the Chicago director discovered Mr. Marshall.

"Strangely enough, I was in America at the time," said Mr. Marshall last night at the Alexandria. "I had just returned to my native land. I had sung the role many times during the twelve years I was abroad, but had never appeared in it in America, nor in any other opera for that matter."

"While the directors of the Chicago were abroad they heard of my performance and engaged me. The success achieved by Mr. Marshall in this part has been one of the sensations of the Chicago season."

Like Nordica, and one or two other famous singers, Mr. Marshall was born in Maine. He began his musical studies in Boston and as soon as possible went abroad.

"I studied with Lombardi, St. Vannucini and others in Europe," continued the singer. "I was coached in the role of Otello by the great tragedian, Salvini, who, as you remember, was a rival of Sir Henry Irving himself in the interpretation."

Mr. Marshall will sing in several operas next season with the Chicago. One of his other favorites is "Samson and Delilah." He will likely do that work as well as "Otello" in "Aida" and the tenor role in "Le Juive," which was revived with success at the Metropolitan during the past season as a Caruso opera. It is also possible that Mr. Marshall will sing Tristan, which is one of his favorite portrayals.

He is the Caruso type of tenor in appearance. That is, he is large of build. His hair and complexion are light, however, although this will be lost to view in the make-up which he wears as Otello.

"I had rather sing Otello than any other part because of its dramatic and vocal opportunities," he said. "I will not deny that it is an arduous and taxing opera. Still, I have never once been vocally tired on completing a performance."

Time and again I must have completely lost myself in the role. Rhea Hains probably knows that as well as anybody. At least, she has brought it to my attention, that I have become rather too strenuous in my interpretation.

"Maria Ciampi, who was singing Emilia, came to me once between the acts and asked me not to treat Miss Hains so rough. Referring to the relation Desdemona occupied toward her in the opera, she said: 'My mistress asks you please not to be so mean with her.'"

"Of course, it was all in fun. "Another time in Chicago Miss Hains came to me the day after the performance, and told me: 'Look what you have done to my nose last night. Get me all black and blue.' By which it might be concluded that to do Otello right on the operatic stage you have to be something of a caveman."

Plalogu Hadn't Better See This.

Constance Talmadge and Kenneth Harlan. Of course, it's just a scene from "Mamma's Affair," but then if you didn't know Miss Talmadge's new husband, John Plalogu, had some reason to become excited.

mind as soon as he sees them, and of course, the writing backward and the rest of his tricks have been largely developed through practice. But still he always had a natural talent for those.

Incidentally, he's going to quit vaudeville for long spell in July. The reason being that this two-day performance stuff is causing him to lose his hair.

Completes MacDonald Picture. Jerome Storm will complete work this week on the Katherine MacDonald production which he is directing for First National release and will commence work at once jitting and editing. This MacDonald production, which as yet is without a title, is said to be of an entirely different nature than any in which the star has appeared, being a picture of the human quality for which Mr. Storm is celebrated.

The director's insistence upon types is carried out in the large cast, which includes among its principals Roy Stewart, Bertram Grassby, Helen Raymond, Betty Ross Clark, Joseph Girard, Vincent Hamilton, Lillian Rich and Winter Hall. The action of the picture moves through two contrasting phases of society and permits of unusual settings, for one of which Mr. Storm has reproduced the dining-room of the Claridge Hotel in New York, York.

Mr. Storm expects to commence work on a special some time in May or June, it is understood.

Authors Turn to Scripts. We haven't had anything exciting from the author's corner for a few days. Consequently it is worthwhile to remark that Edward Sheldon, the author of "Salvation Nell" and "Romance," has now provided an original for Gloria Swanson, which is to go into production as soon as the author finishes his "The Great Moment."

W. Somerset Maugham has contributed a story to the new picture with a new story for Betty Compson. The title is "The Ordinal." Henry Stansbury, who appears as a racing man as he finishes his film as a first star picture, "At the End of the World."

"Half Breed" Troupe Leaves. Tired of working around the studio all the time, the cast of "The Half Breed" will leave for the north today to capture some location scenes. Director Charles A. Taylor expects to return in about a week to start on the tiling and final cutting of the picture. Then work will probably begin on "Slippery When Wet."

The northern location is not far from Modesto. Cowboys have been working in the area, and the "ahoy" in some of the scenes.

Matzenauer Soloist. Margaret Matzenauer is to be soloist at the Philharmonic orchestra concert this afternoon at Philharmonic Auditorium. Her group of songs will include selections from Brahms, Schubert and Schumann, and the "Love Death" from "Tristan and Isolde."

Conductor Rothwell has selected the seventh symphony by Beethoven and "Les Preludes" by Liszt for the orchestral program.

the valley, and Mr. Fairbanks permitted his famous wife to go skating with one of two of them. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks also tried skiing but this was a little too much for Mary.

Now everybody at the Fairbanks studio is getting ready for the production of "The Three Guardsmen," while everybody at Mary Pickford's is preparing for "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

All the men at the Fairbanks studio are raising a big crop of cures. Wallace Reid will play "Ibketson," a story in which Mr. Reid is to be co-starred with Elsie Ferguson, if present plans are carried out.

Mr. Reid has just come back from his trip to Vancouver, where he studied in the opening of the Capitol Theater. He reports having been royally received, with no less a person than the Mayor of Vancouver, Harry Galle, as his pal in motoring and other sports during his stay in the northern city.

Tom Forman to New York. While he isn't looking forward with any degree of pleasurable excitement to the idea, still the fact remains that Tom Forman, Lasky director, who is going to New York next week to make "Cappy Ricks," will be likely to be retained there for the next year. He will therefore take his family with him.

Mr. Forman, it seems, is to film several features at the New York studio. Thomas Melghan is to be starred in "Cappy Ricks."

Nasimova Uses Double. There are tricks in every trade and Mme. Nasimova, who is making a film version of "Camille" for Metro, under direction of Ray Smallwood, is using a novel one. This is nothing less than the employment of a double in many of the long shots.

The young woman who doubles for the star looks so like her that, as far as appearances are concerned, she could in fact be in the close-ups if it were necessary, but, of course, while she is a clever actress, her acting would hardly be called a "double" for that of the star. This using a double leaves Mme. Nasimova free to act in directing.

Eric Von Stroheim isn't the only one who can stage Monte Carlo gambling scenes, it seems, and yesterday Nasimova appeared in some sumptuous ones in connection with "Camille."

Also, whatever the censors may have to say about it later, she is determined that several lovely young women who appear in these scenes shall not be bundled right up to their thighs in clothes. The result is the appearance of much feminine beauty fairly unadorned in these scenes.

The sets and costumes were designed by Mlle. Rambova, who was said to have been in the studio yesterday. She looked at the set and the lovely girls.

"Designs, did you say, Miss Rambova? Those costumes aren't designs. They're plots!"

Agnes Ayres to London. It now appears likely that the next feminine candidate for London, and the Lasky studios over there, is lovely Agnes Ayres. She appears this week at Grauman's Rialto in "Forbidden Fruit."

Harry Myers With Reclat. Harry Myers, the inimitable light comedian, who became nationally prominent through his portrayal of Mark Twain's hero in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," has been engaged by Reclat to play an important role with Bebe Daniels in "The March Hare," a comedy-drama by Elmer Harris.

Zak's Plans. It looks now as though pictures might be made a part of the entertainment at the Paris opera, on nights when opera is not being given. At least Adolph Zukor hopes to make a studio for the purpose.

Mr. Zukor will also confer with Sir James Barrie regarding the production of Barrie's play, "Peter Pan," to be produced at the Lasky Studios, and the scenario for which was written by Barrie himself. He will also make arrangements for Barrie to come to America within a few months to supervise a picture, and will talk with him concerning what actress among the half hundred now under consideration will best play the title role.

SPEED RELIEF FOR SOLDIERS.
Harding Committee to Rush Report to President.
Legion Men Will Brook no Delay in Inquiry.
Salient Facts Will be Ready for Message.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is possible today to give in detail the work which will be done by the committee which President Harding has named to speed up the work of relief for the wounded and sick soldiers of the United States.
As soon as the committee assembles, it will send for the chief officials of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, of the Vocational Training Bureau and the Public Health Service. All of them will be questioned in a quick endeavor to get explanations for the apparent fall down in relief work in the American Legion officials from all parts of the country also will be summoned, and they will give at first hand conditions as they exist in the communities in which they live.
BROOK NO DELAY.
The work of the committee will be pressed by the Legion men, who will be in the majority of the membership. They will not brook delay and it is believed that within three days they can give to President Harding sufficient data to enable him to send specific recommendations to Congress covering relief work as a part of his annual message, which will be given to the two Houses on Tuesday, April 12.
It is the intention of the committee to get the salient facts of existing conditions, so that it can tell Congress through the president specifically how the wrongs can be rectified. The committee of Congress will have in concrete form, therefore, the recommendations of the committee endorsed by American Legion officers everywhere and reinforced by the specific endorsement of the President of the United States. It is said the American Legion men did not have to urge President Harding to the necessity of quick, heavy action in these cases.
It seems certain now that quickly by all the bureau of the government which have been entrusted with the work of the soldier relief bill will be consolidated into one bureau and that the scattering work of the past will be ended. The new organization will be under the direct charge of one of the assistant secretaries of the department of government, who will give virtually his entire time to the work.
It is not believed today that the bureau which grows out of the consolidation will be compelled to look after the matter of pensions. There was an intimation that pensions, as such, would be placed under the control of the new organization, but the belief seems to be that such an addition to the work would cripple the machinery which delay the immediate relief of conditions as they exist.

TO CURE AND HOSPITALS.
It can be said now that Brig.-Gen. Sawyer will not be a member of the committee, which will frame the work of reorganization and take means to insure ready relief for the men who need it so badly. Gen. Sawyer, however, will be consulted on questions which pertain to the rehabilitation of the sick.
It is not the intention of the American Legion to recede from its demand for permanent hospitals. Money has been appropriated for new hospitals and it is the intention of the Legion to stand by its guns in this matter, though the fact has been attempted to make it retreat from its position. The Legion officials realize that it will take some time to build the new hospitals, but while they are under construction they know there are temporary hospitals at the moment, which can be put into shape for the proper care of the sick and wounded.

CARE FOR HEROES.
It cannot be said yet, definitely, into what department of government the new organization will be placed, nor what assistant secretary will have charge of the work, but it can be taken for granted that the direction of affairs will be placed in a department best fitted to do the work in the hands of an assistant secretary whose heart will be in his job.
The Legion men will have the present administration intends to make the cause of the ex-service men its own. Some of the men fought in France, or who did their hard service in the camps of this country, have been called to high places in the government. The heart interest of all of them is with their comrades who served in whatever rank in camp or field.
The spirit of the service of these men already is making itself felt in every department of the government, and it has needed only the developments of the last few days in Washington to prove how systematically it is being felt within the White House.

WILL SEEK RELEASE OF DRAFT RESISTERS.
DRIVE IN BEHALF OF WARTIME PRISONERS IS SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 13.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—An other drive for the release of "political prisoners" will be inaugurated April 13, the second anniversary of the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs, when a delegation, including J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the American Federation of Labor and Congress Union of America, will visit the White House to urge President Harding to proclaim a general amnesty for all those now serving terms for resisting the draft or for violation of the espionage and other war laws.
The petition to be presented to Congress is said to contain more names than any other petition in the history of the nation.

ARMED FORCE TAKES HIS WHISKY.
HUNTINGTON (B. C.) March 31.—Complaint has been lodged with the police here by John Jarbek, Columbia Valley, that he was held up by an armed force of men, who he said, were Americans, and robbed of ten cases of whisky.

EQUAL PROTECTION FOR FARMERS URGED.
WALLACE SAYS THE HEAVY FREIGHT RATES A BARRIER TO FOREIGN RIVALS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Protection for the farmers on an equality with manufacturers and industrial interests in any tariff policy to be decided upon and adding to any rates which may be levied an amount equal to the extra freight charges on getting products to the consuming centers was urged tonight by Secretary Wallace.
The heavy additional burden imposed on the producers by increased freight rates, he declared, "is a differential imposed on our own producers and to the benefit of our foreign competitors."
Manufacturers are laying plans to meet foreign competition and desire a tariff to protect them against their foreign goods, he asserted, and insisted that the situation facing the producers must be considered in any legislation.
Producers, he said, are getting prices below cost of production. The nation cannot afford to permit the breaking down of its own agriculture, he continued. "At present there is a large surplus of agricultural products, but this will not continue, because the population is growing and the demand for food is increasing."
"The present troubles are greatly aggravated by conditions at home and abroad. Foreign nations owing the United States money are making desperate efforts to grow their own food, and are buying as little as possible here and trying to sell as much as they can."

WOMAN JAILED AFTER THROWING OF ACID.
JEROME SCHOOL-TEACHER MAY LOSE EYESIGHT AS RESULT OF BURNS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
JEROME (Ariz.) March 31.—Mrs. Clarence V. Hopkins, wife of a mining engineer and former official of United Verde Copper Company, was rushed to the Prescott County Jail this morning to avoid violence against her as a result of throwing of acid into the face of Lucille Gallagher, a school-teacher, here.
Mrs. Hopkins entered a restaurant, where Miss Gallagher and another teacher were eating breakfast this morning. She went to the kitchen and, according to witnesses, took the bottle of acid from her muff, poured its contents into a tumbler and went to the booth where the two teachers were seated.
Mrs. Hopkins is said to have then seized Miss Gallagher by the hair, pushed her back and poured the acid into her eyes, rubbing it in with one hand. Her hand was severely burned in the process. Doctors attending Miss Gallagher cannot yet say whether they can save her eyesight.
During the war Mr. Hopkins, Miss Gallagher and another local teacher were in Washington doing war work. While there, the three had a dinner at the home of Mrs. Hopkins, who returned to Jerome, Ariz., after the war. Mrs. Hopkins attempted to horseplay the other teacher, and Miss Gallagher, who left the city, she returned only a short time ago.

BALLOON FLIGHT IS SUBJECT OF INQUIRY.
LITTLE HOPE HELD OUT THAT FIVE MISSING MEN WILL EVER BE FOUND.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt has begun a personal inquiry into the flight of the blimp, which disappeared March 22, the day it left Pensacola, Fla., with five men aboard.
The inquiry was started today, the Pensacola affair, coming soon after the balloon flight from Rockaway, Long Island, to Mexico City, Oct. 1, would undoubtedly result in tightening up orders regarding such flights in future.
The department admitted that little hope was entertained that the men would ever be found. In commenting on naval aviation affairs, Mr. Roosevelt announced that he did not favor unification of the Army, Navy and Postoffice air services.

BLIND OX DIES WHEN SEPARATED FROM PAL.
BOVINE PROTEGE OF BARNYARD GANDER JUST DROOPS AND EXPIRES.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
GREENSBORO (Ala.) March 31.—The blind ox, famous as the protegee of a stately gander on the J. A. Holcroft plantation, near here, is dead and those on the farm believe his death is due directly to enforced separation from his guardian.
Recently it became necessary to transfer the ox to another pasture. The gander was unable to follow. The separation was too much for the ox and he pined and drooped, refused food and drink, and finally laid down and died.
The ox and gander lately attracted widespread attention by their strong companionship. Each day at regular intervals the gander would lead the ox to water by the sound of his honking. The ox would follow the sound, and if other cattle approached the ox would fly furiously at them and drive the intruders out of range.

GERMANS EXPLAIN AGAIN.
BERLIN, March 31.—Further long notes have been exchanged between the Inter-Allied Commission and Germany in which the Allies claim Germany has failed to complete the delivery of arms and materials from fortresses. The German government in detailed explanations claims it has detained only arms sufficient for an army of 100,000 and fortress materials absolutely necessary.

Declares Revolution is Bound to Succeed.

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BERLIN, March 31.—Mrs. Gabrielle Kastner, the daughter of a former admiral and a niece of the late Field Marshal Von Der Goltz, received a correspondent today in the public ward of a Berlin hospital where she had been taken after being wounded when police fired on a party of Communist unemployed, which she was leading in last Saturday's demonstration.
Mrs. Kastner, who is but 19, talked with a soft, gentle voice and with a single note of bitterness against the police for the injury she had suffered. She sought to explain the present uprising in Germany and her reason for leaving the luxurious home of her parents to join the working class Communist party. She is at present employed as a teacher in a school organized by industrial councils for the workers.

ARE NOT CRIMINALS.
"I am not a criminal nor are my comrades who are taking part in the demonstration and fighting throughout Germany. Please explain to the readers of your big American paper that the Communists are not responsible for the bombing outrages which they have been reading about. They are instigated by German reactionary agents in an effort to convince the Entente that disarmament should not be carried out. The German workers, who learned how to handle explosives during the war, are not stupid enough to make so many failures now. Nine out of every ten explosions last week only succeeded in making a terrific noise."
The German workers are not protesting against the Allied demerits claims. We are willing to give reparations, to construct the destroyed areas of Northern France and in Northern Belgium. But we are rebelling against enslavement by German capitalists and international bankers who wish to re-establish the ten and twelve-hour day, reduce wages and to throw the burden of meeting the reparations on our shoulders. The workers' taxes are being taken out of their weekly pay envelope while the owners and speculators are falsifying their accounts and smuggling their wealth abroad.

"The present revolt is a mere beginning. The fight will continue to grow more bloody until the capitalist system collapses."
A nurse entered the room and terminated the visit. As the correspondent was leaving the room, this daughter of German aristocratic reactionaries, whose family recently determined to re-occupy this country, Entente or Allied countries as their guests and to boycott all Germans assuming social relations with the former enemies called and said: "There revolution is bound to succeed. If not now, next month, or the month after, not only in Germany, but throughout the whole world. Long live the international revolution."

INFORMED OF GOD'S WILL BY DREAMS.
FORMER MORMON ELDER MAKES STATEMENT DEFENDING ACTS OF FOLLOWERS.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
SALE LAKE, March 31.—Moses S. Gudmundson, formerly a presiding elder in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and who with his followers was excommunicated from the church recently when it was found that practices were being followed which were against the laws of the church, has issued a statement defending his action. Gudmundson and several men and women were disowned when it was found that they had practiced "wife sacrifice," which he claimed formed God's way of providing for the men taking the wives of others.
Following the announcement of the church decision, Dist. Atty. William B. Higgins declared today that Gudmundson and his followers probably would be prosecuted.

Gudmundson, in the statement says that he and his followers founded a colony in West Tintic, Utah, as a result of dreams which he claimed formed God's way of telling man his will. The colony was supposed to till the soil which it was thought would provide sufficient food for its needs. The irrigation was poor and the colony, as an agricultural one, was a failure, according to persons who joined in the co-operative scheme and later deserted Gudmundson.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Stocks continued to register further substantial declines in today's heavy session, domestic and foreign happenings, coupled with a scarcity of supporting orders, inviting fresh attacks by the short interest.

The virtual failure of the New York City short-term bond issue was the subject of general discussion in banking circles.

Indications that the administration at Washington purposes giving immediate consideration to the acute transportation problem were without apparent effect. Ralls, as a group, extended recent losses, Pennsylvania being conspicuous for another low record.

New England and southern centers of industry announced additional curtailments in production of iron and steel manufacturers for the quarter ended today are expected to disclose unsatisfactory results.

Call money rose from 6 1/2 to 7 per cent in the last half hour, effecting additional declines but final prices for the most part were considerably over lowest levels, shorts covering in United States Steel, Atlantic Gulf and kindred issues. Sales amounting to $45,000 shares.

Liberty Bonds forfeited part of yesterday's gains and the more prominent railway and industrial issues were weaker but international, notably Paris and French municipalities, made slight gains. Total sales, par value, were $9,676,000.

YOU are cordially invited to visit the Bolsa Chica Oil Company's well at Nineteenth Street and Wesley Avenue, Huntington Beach, next Sunday between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. At that time officials of the company will be on hand to tell you anything you desire to know about an oil well.

Irving V. Augur is making every effort to start actual drilling Sunday afternoon. The boilers have been set up, and as soon as the pipe fittings have been connected, Driller Lew Hilton will order steam up.

Superintendent Augur says the bit will be in the oil sand within 14 days from the start.

When the bit hits the sand, the Bolsa Chica Oil Company's stock will be withdrawn from the market temporarily. An application will be made to the State Corporation Commissioner to sell at $1.50 a share. If you want Bolsa Chica Oil Company's stock at $1 a share, buy now! There will not be any warning. Our stockholders will receive an opportunity to purchase at $1 a share, but that applies to the stockholders exclusively.

Such men as Irving V. Augur, Frank C. Ayers, John B. Elliott, Louis J. Evans, M. L. Gorman, Frank C. Hanson, James Irving, I. Hays Rice, George Rice, Jr., T. B. Trebell and H. A. Young guarantee you an absolute square deal.

Sunday is your day of opportunity. Drive down by the way of Long Beach or Santa Ana and take the P. E. cars at Sixth and Main Street Station. Cars leave Los Angeles at 9:55 a.m., 11:55 a.m., 1:50 p.m. and 2:50 p.m. Autos meet all trains at Huntington Beach to take you to the well and return you to the depot. Look for the banners on the backs of the autos.

If you are unable to visit the property, then take the words of eleven of the biggest business men in Los Angeles that it is one of the best opportunities that has ever been offered to an investing public. Only 175,000 shares to be sold—$1 a share, NOW!

Company, the interests which we are today selling at 10 cents are worth the 20-cent price—if not more.

WE ASK YOU TO JUDGE FOR YOURSELF—we give you the opportunity of seeing our wells—at our expense—at 10 and 20—Today.

Oil Barbecue Sunday,
12 a.m. to 3 p.m.—April 3rd

To celebrate the spudding in of Well No. 2, we have arranged to give a barbecue on our lease adjoining the Standard Oil famous $600,000 lease. All are welcome.

HOW TO GET THERE—By motor through Inglewood on the Redondo boulevard. When you reach the big gasers that have already been brought in, you will see our sign north of the Hawthorne and Standard Oil gasser.

By street car—Take the yellow car marked Hawthorne on Broadway, Los Angeles. Get off at the Postoffice at Hawthorne—a 15c fare this way—and only a short walk from the car line.

COME IN TODAY—Or mail your reservation today—it is important, as big developments are expected—any day—any hour.

THE JAIL ABOMINATIONS.

Under ordinary circumstances the public on the outside would have but a mild interest in reports of rioting inside the county jail. It would be dismissed as something that concerned only the Sheriff and his deputies. But, in the present instance, we must admit, if we are mentally honest, that justice sits with those within the county bastille, and that the community is guilty of the grossest injustice in seizing men and women on the suspicion of having committed a crime and confining them in quarters so overcrowded and unsanitary that, if beasts were so stabled, their keepers would be arrested by the health officers.

And it is in the name of the law that our city and county jails are shamelessly packed with unfortunates, a majority of whom have been convicted only of the crime of poverty. It is worse than imprisonment for debt; it is imprisonment because they do not possess property or influence sufficient to secure bail. These inmates are human beings. They have a right to the protection of a government founded on justice, that supposes every person innocent until proven guilty, and that guarantees to all an equal right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That a majority of those arrested are not convicted is prima-facie evidence that the innocent in the jails outnumber the guilty. Under such conditions the government that holds them in detinue owes them fair consideration; their enforced confinement should be made as little irksome as possible; they should be housed in sanitary quarters; and the spirit of the law which regards them as innocents unavoidably detained should be scrupulously observed.

What are the actual conditions? The accused are carried either to the city or the county jail; and at whichever bastille they land, they will shortly wish it had been the other. For both are fearfully, shamefully, lawlessly overcrowded. To confine human beings under conditions which actually exist in those two prisons is a crime against civilization. If dogs were so kept at the city pound, the S. P. C. A. would hale the keepers into court. If stock were so packed into cattle cars, those responsible would quickly be arrested for overcrowding.

For there are laws that protect the stray dogs that get into the pound, and live stock in corrals and in transit; but for the unfortunates arrested on suspicion and without means of giving bail, there seems no court of God or man with jurisdiction to guarantee them humane treatment.

Sheriff Traeger said Wednesday in referring to the violent protests of the prisoners in the county jail:

The uprising is due to the overcrowded conditions that prevent those in charge from punishing individual cases of disorder. These crowded conditions many times cause, through no fault of those in charge of the jail, almost inhuman treatment. These men, many of whom have not been proved guilty, are being held under almost unbearable conditions.

What causes conditions which the Sheriff himself says are "almost unbearable"? About 450 men and women are confined in a county jail that was built when Los Angeles had a population of less than 150,000 and when the county had not more than one-fourth its present population. The building was intended to house an average of 100 persons. It was estimated that by crowding, in case of extreme emergency, it could house 200. And Los Angeles county, with its 1,000,000 population, the wealthiest agricultural county in the whole United States, is so niggardly, so inhuman or so heedless that it continues to crowd into that narrow and unsanitary little jail more than four times its normal capacity.

How far do you imagine an Americanization program will get with foreigners who have the misfortune to be suspected of crime and are thrown into such a prison? Is it any wonder that I. W. W. fanatics commit petty offenses to get the opportunity of spreading their propaganda under such favorable conditions? It is difficult to believe, despite the evidence, that a community so highly enlightened as that in which we reside should permit such atrocities against justice and humanity.

Headlessness is our only excuse. The Times has repeatedly called attention to the scant regard that is shown for those arrested but not convicted. Again and again the Times has cried aloud against these wretched, crime-hatching, disease-breeding jail abominations. For years it has urged the immediate construction of new jails and sanitary quarters for prisoners. But the public conscience has not yet been aroused. Those who know that bail could easily be arranged if they were to be accused give little thought to the ones for whom securing bail is impossible. Our thoughtlessness lends color to the contention that there is in this country one law for the rich and another for the poor.

Los Angeles county contains some of the finest private residences in the country. But our city and county jails are undeniable evidence of criminal negligence of those who, more than any other group perhaps, are entitled to our first consideration.

Officials of the city and county jails admit that the buildings are unsanitary, that they are vermin infested, that it is impossible to separate those who are diseased from the other prisoners, that the supply of light and air is so scant that the most robust constitution must soon break in the deleterious atmosphere. Packing human beings into tanks, like sardines, may be tolerated in Bolshevik Russia, but that it should be permitted here is unspeakable.

One wonders why recent grand juries have not made more vigorous protests, why our public officials who know from contact how horrible the conditions really are have not made louder outcries against such abuses.

New jails cost money, to be sure, and we are now heavily taxed. But the public conscience cannot afford to be too closely linked to the public purse. Honest poverty deserves alike consideration and respect. If the protection of life and property compels the detention in prisons of those suspected of the commission of crime, it should also compel human and generous treatment.

The Times is not in the habit of condoning violence. It is doubtless true that lawless characters in the jails have taken advantage of the crowded condition to foment discord. But the Times refuses to blind itself to the fact that there are hundreds of persons guilty of any crime locked up in the city and county bastilles. Protection of life and property makes this injustice impossible to evade; but that is all the stronger argument for sanitary prisons.

Temporary quarters should be secured without further delay. Those accused of minor offenses need not, for the time being, be so closely guarded. Better that a few guilty should escape than that hundreds of innocent persons should be subjected to such outrages. And, before another winter comes, new city and county jails should be constructed. Public opinion must make the City Council and the Board of Supervisors feel the weight of its indignation.

THE MARCH OF "INTERNAL REFORM."

The movement for "internal reform," which is spreading through a wide variety of organizations, is a healthy sign of the times. There appears to be a new vogue to the effect that "reform should begin at home" and that it is well to examine the defects of one's own organization before casting aspersions on the vision of the other fellow.

Thus we now see the dancing masters convening in Paris, the citadel of indiscretion, to reform the dance from the inside, to abolish the shimmy and other jazzy vulgarities and restore the waltz and its dignified contemporaries to public favor. Like the cinema people, they have doubtless seen the writing on the wall and recognized that the public has about had its fill of the salacious. That there is a healthy reaction in favor of public decency has long been obvious, but it is infinitely more desirable that the culprits should take themselves in hand rather than await the unsatisfactory method of legislative vengeance.

So, also, we have the Paris dressmakers discarding the backless gowns, insisting upon fuller and longer skirts and introducing at once a semblance of a sleeve. School and college girls are passing resolutions against pant, make-up and flash and are staging fashion shows proving the greater attractions of modest styles. The boy students are going on record for better behavior generally, although so far these young men have given more attention to the sins of the girls than their own. When we hear of them resolving against excessive cigarette smoking, gambling, indiscreet joy rides and the like their sincerity will make a deeper impression.

The cinema industry was, of course, the first to publicly offer contrition and resolve to make amends. But not only in the "pleasure" departments are these internal reforms becoming vigorous. The advertising men, for instance, are waging a campaign for honest advertising. Bar associations all over the country are sternly reviewing the ethics of their membership. Merchants and manufacturers are announcing a wide variety of improved methods. Labor organizations, too, are exhibiting a sense of responsibility and advocating concessions.

IS MONEY DANGEROUS?

BY FREDERICK J. WASKIN.

Is it a help or a handicap in the pursuit of success and happiness to have wealth which you have inherited or otherwise obtained without any effort of your own?

Most of us would be glad to hazard the handiwork and take the money. If any should come our way. And yet the precise effect which unearned money has on a man is a subject about which there is certainly a widespread belief that much money is dangerous to a young man, that his success and happiness are most probable if he has to make his own way. A surprising number of people act upon this belief. For instance, within the last few weeks two such instances have come to the attention of the public. In one of these a young man, Charles Garland, refused to accept a bequest of a quarter of a million dollars. He gave no reason for his refusal, but simply informed the trustees of the estate that he was not interested in the money and would not take it. In the other case, the will of a multi-millionaire, Marshall Field, was found to provide that his grandsons should not have the full use of his estate until each had reached the age of 30 years. The Field will specifically states that this action is taken to prevent the heirs from "leading useless lives of luxury and idleness."

Whatever Garland's motive may have been in refusing a fortune, Field's motive in trying his grandsons plainly announced. He believed that inherited wealth will make a man useless. And the diligent search for reader might collect many other instances of rich men who have sought to protect their heirs from the dangers of wealth, and a few others of men and women who have themselves run away from wealth.

Of course, the general stampede in the opposite direction, but these instances are significant.

THE ANCIENT QUESTION.

Furthermore, the whole question is significant because it brings up that ancient problem as to whether environment or heredity is the determining factor in man's destiny. In other words, is it true, as we have generally been taught in this country, that if you just get a good education and work hard and mind your P's and Q's you can do almost anything? Or, on the contrary, is it true that your destiny is determined largely on the kind of brain you were born with, and that you will never be able to do more than the best of the things you need in spite of almost any handicap of mere circumstances?

This question has been debated by the millions of words, and yet it has never been anywhere near settled. The reason seems to be that while there has been much talk, there has been little investigation. Our psychologists are just beginning to investigate such practical and vital questions as this. We may expect some real light on the question in the next few years.

Alfred Russell Wallace, the friend and follower of Darwin, was one who strongly believed that wealth was a curse to a young man, and that inheritance of wealth should be done away with. He was a man of undoubted intelligence who is fond of making the same assertion. But in both cases, it is merely a theory. Let some investigator gather all possible instances of young men who have inherited money, let him find out just what each one accomplished, and trace, as far as possible, what effect the money had on their careers. Such a man would be worth listening to, because he would have some evidence as well as argument to back up his statements. It is pretty clear that we believe what we want to believe. It is comforting to think that we can achieve much if we only get a good education and work hard—that these factors are more important than heredity. It is also comforting for those of us who have no money to believe that we have the chance to escape a curse, and are happier and more successful than we would have been if we had inherited millions.

A STUDY OF ROYALTY.

The nearest thing to a scientific study of the question which we are now discussing is a book by Frederick Adams Woods on "Hereditary Royalty." Mr. Woods studies the histories of all the royal families in Europe with a view to discovering whether in these families—chosen because so much of the world's attention is focused upon them—there has been found—ability has been hereditary or not. He also sets out to discover whether the royal families have tended to degenerate by reason of their luxurious lives, as they are popularly believed to do. His conclusion is a real statistical study of the effect of inherited wealth on a great number of men and women—over 3000 are studied individually.

Woods, who is a biologist first and a student of heredity second, reaches the conclusion that in royal families, wealth and luxury have not proved to be a curse. He believes that when such families have shown a decline in ability or power, it has always been due to hereditary influences. Usually inbreeding is not the cause, either. The cause usually is an unwise marriage. Some prince marries an obscure woman who is stupid, commonplace, or unhealthy. The next generation shows the effect of the bad cross. Two or three such marriages, and the blood of the royal family nearly always of excellent quality to start with, is diluted with weakness which ultimately leads to its downfall.

Woods shows that some royal families, like that of Portugal, for example, have produced men of high capacity for as much as twelve generations without a break. Then, due to the introduction of inferior blood, this same line in a few generations has literally gone to pieces. These conclusions of Woods seem to agree with those of the modern scientists in general. Modern science believes that a man's destiny is largely determined by his natural endowment. This is not to say, however, that a man's destiny is largely inherited from immediate forebears. That is, the chances are that the child of a man of high capacity as your mother and father. More rarely, you may resemble a poor fellow, long forgotten. Most rarely of all, you may be the freak of nature, a genius. A man of remarkable ability is occasionally born of commonplace parents. But such instances are much more rare than is generally believed.

Whether you have money or not, is really of little importance, according to the scientific point of view. If you have ability and strength, you will get the education you need without money and very likely without schools.

Not His Fault.

A Los Angeles building promoter the streets wearing a wrist watch, but, as every dog-fancier will understand, the poor brute is not to be blamed for this.—(New York Herald.)

RIPPLING RHYMES.

IN HEALTH.

You may be stout and wind and limb, without an ache, and full of vim; but if you sit around the shade and read Doc Dingbat's almanac you'll soon be buying packs of pills to cure a string of pipe-dreams. You'll find that every act of yours demands a lot of bottled cures, and if you groan or cough or sneeze you're marked down as some dread disease. And if you sweat when you are warm there's some punk ailment in your form. And if you dream when you're in bed it argues that you'll soon be dead, unless you see a doctor and buy three quarts of Dingbat's pills. The more you read the more you find that you're diseased in frame and mind; and to the drugstore by the dump you'll always go on the jump to blow in good five-dollar bills for Dr. Dingbat's Dinky Pills. It shows how reading soils the mind, unless you read the proper kind. If you read volumes of despair you'll soon be dead and past the air. If you read morbid tales of crime you'll stay your grandpa for a dime. If you read slush concerning sex you'll line up with the moral wrecks. The world is full of beautiful tales containing stories, essays, poems, and so it's folly to inspect the books that jar the intellect.

WALT MASON.

THE LOWLY PICNIC.

I've been on an lowly picnic, Jane, and I've mixed with the pick of the land. Sixty acres of whiskers and faces, not counting the life-and-drum band!

And we chewed slippery elum and talked of blue jeans and the day of the old county fair. Till the shades of Kate Shelley and old Story Jordan appeared to be hovering there.

Old Aunt Jennie Smith from Ottumwa was there with an old-fashioned gown and a locket; And Uncle Ben Wilson from Allamakee with a long ear of corn in his pocket.

And a whole lot of people from Marshalltown, too, Mt. Pleasant and old Muscatine; And we told how we paid off the mortgage last fall. That we all took a chew of long grass.

An old corn-fed fellow approached me and said, "Do you know why them folks is all worried?" "Cause they all come from Marion county, Haw, haw!" That's a joke that I thought had been buried.

Says I to him, "Neighbor, don't get fresh with me or I'll sue you 'cause I'm from Sioux City. Haw, haw!" Then the both of us stood and laughed. Us lowly folks is dummed witty.

There was ten thousand baskets filled up with real chow—no napkins nor no demmy tassels; But pickled beets, turnips and onions and greens and corn bread and sorghum molasses. And we sopped on the grass in the old-fashioned way, right down with the best of us; and ate; Then we all picked our teeth, I mean some of us did; some just wiped their teeth on their pants.

I could see Des Moines River all rippling and blue, with its sandbars and white bleaching logs; I walked through the dog fennel laden with dew to the chorus of locusts and from the poplars.

And I saw the old swimmin' hole, scummy and green, and the black haws that hung out of the reeds.

And the smartwoods and cuckoo-birds—things we've forgot since the capital moved to Long Beach.

I wonder why lowly stars way back East when her sons have departed and gone. Like an old haunted house that stands silent and lone, deserted by the folks that once lived there. You folks that come next better bring it along, for the rest of us solemnly warn you.

We'll get Luther Burbank to chop the corn and from the poplars.

MAJOR STEW.

ADVICE TO A YOUNG MAN.

Remember, my son, you have to work—whether you handle a pick or a pen, a wheelbarrow or a set of books, digging ditches, or editing a newspaper, ringing an auction bell, writing funny things, you must work.

If you look around you will see the men who are the most able to live the rest of their lives without work are the men who work the hardest. Don't be a fool and let yourself with overwork—it is beyond your power to do that on the sunny side of 30—they die, sometimes, but it is because they quit work at 4 p.m. and don't get home until 2 a.m. It's the interval that kills, my son.

The work gives you an appetite for your meals—it lends solidity to your slumbers—it gives you a perfect and grateful appreciation of a holiday.

There are young men who do not work—but the world is not proud of them. It knows not their names even. It simply speaks of them as "old So-and-So's boys." Nobody likes them, the great, busy world doesn't know that they are there.

So find out what you want to be and do and take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are the less harm you will be apt to get into—the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays and the better satisfied will the world be with you.—(Reprinted from an old newspaper.)

Whatever may be the extent of the present movement, there can be no doubt that it marks the beginning on the part of railroads to reduce their labor bills by means of new working agreements and lower wage scales. They are proceeding under the transportation act and will appeal to the railroad labor board only in the event that direct negotiation ends in disagreement.

Says Husband Refused to Let Her Accompany Him on Pleasure Trip North.

When the divorce action of Mrs. Nellie C. Graham against William J. Graham comes to trial, a picture of another woman, which she says she found in a pocket in her husband's clothes, is expected to figure. Yesterday the case came before Judge Burnell on a motion to strike out the complaint. One of the charges which it was sought to strike out was the excessive love of Mr. Graham. The court allowed this to stand.

Mrs. Graham complains that Mr. Graham refused to allow her to accompany him on a pleasure trip to Portland. He told her he was going for a good time, she said, and "did not want to be bothered with any woman."

He gave her $1 when he left. Upon his return, she says, she found in his pocket a picture, showing her husband with his arm around the neck of another woman, a former sweetheart. When she remonstrated with him about it, he told her it was none of her business. He said he went to Portland for a good time "and he sure had it."

Before his trip to Portland, Mrs. Graham said that her husband was very loving to her. Upon his return and for several days afterward, she complains, he was very cold towards her.

Mr. Graham owns property in Long Beach and receives rents from an apartment-house. He has told his wife, she asserts, that he does not love her and that he married her because he needed her to do work in the apartment-house.

Innocent Bystander of Lovers' Nois

Avers Bride of Day Just to Spite Fie

In a moment of pique Lucy Johnson proposed Harold Johnston, March 31. He accepted and she was married. The following day she told her husband she loved him, would not live with him, and refused to allow him the home of her parents West Second street, where residing.

The story of the affair is an unusual one in the courts, where it is given for severing ties. An annulment suit Mr. Johnston, a Southern railroad man, and Mrs. Johnson, 31, in Department 11, outlines the story. He told her she was to be married. Shortly after the marriage he did not love her and would not live with him.

She passionately stated a Herman Knight, a classmate had married her. To spite Mr. Knight, with whom she quarreled, she said, she would go away.

The story Mr. Johnston told his attorney, L. C. Knight, who was born the home of Mr. Knight's Mr. Knight introduced him to Mrs. Johnson, with whom Mr. Knight was keeping company. Mr. Knight accompanied her to her home.

Some days later Mrs. Johnson called a lover's quarrel. Mr. Johnston called her a liar. She was very angry. He said, and suggested he was married. A love-light to sparkle in her eyes.

loth, though somewhat to his feet, Mr. Johnston agreed that was the end of the matter. He told her she was to be married. The evening of the next day, Mr. Johnston called her a liar. She was very angry. He said, and suggested he was married. A love-light to sparkle in her eyes.

of Lovers Now Sues.Avers Bride of Day Did It
Just to Spite Fiance.

In a moment of pique Josephine Taylor Johnson proposed to Orville Harold Johnston, March 4, 1920, he says. He accepted and the same evening they were married by Justice Brown. The following day the bride told her husband she did not love him, would not live with him and refused to allow him to enter the home of her parents at 311 West Second street, where she was residing.

The story of the asserted spite marriage is an unusual one, even in the courts, where many reasons are given for severing the marital ties. An annulment suit filed by Mr. Johnson, a Southern Pacific Railroad man, and set for hearing April 11, in Department 11, briefly outlines the story. He says his bride told him she loved him, shortly after the marriage she declared she did not love him, never had loved him and would not live with him.

She passionately stated she loved Herman Knight, a cinema actor. She had married Mr. Johnson to spite Mr. Knight, with whom she had quarreled, she said, but was repentant and wished her husband would go away.

The story Mr. Johnson tells through his attorney, L. C. Woods, is that while he was boarding at the home of Mr. Knight's parents, Mr. Knight introduced him to Miss Josephine Taylor, with whom Mr. Knight was keeping company. Later Mr. Knight accompanied Mr. Johnson to her home.

Some days later Miss Taylor and Mr. Knight had a lover's quarrel. One afternoon Mr. Johnson called on Miss Taylor. She was very gracious, he says, and suggested that they get married. A love-light seemed to sparkle in her eyes. Nothing loth, though somewhat taken off his feet, Mr. Johnson agreed. The knot was tied and they returned to the home of her parents.

The evening of the next day Mr. Knight called at the home of the girl—she is only 18. He did not know that she had married. Mr. Johnson did not hear what they said, but upon the return of his bride, the earth dropped from beneath his feet. He learned that Miss Taylor did not marry him because she loved him, but because she wanted to spite Mr. Knight. He protested. She was firm. As far as she was concerned, he was no longer her husband. Mr. Knight had all of her love.

Mr. Johnson was forced to leave the house. He called the next morning and his bride would not admit him. She told him she had cared for him. At time passed, the attitude of his wife remained unchanged.

"There's a Reason"

Beware of Tender Gums

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound, keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

MANY WILL PROTEST
POMONA BLUE LAWS.CINEMA STARS TO ADDRESS
MASS MEETING; MRS. HAMON
TO TAKE STAGE NAME.

A mass meeting to protest the adoption and enforcement of the proposed Sunday blue laws, will be held on the principal street of Pomona Sunday afternoon, it was announced at a meeting of the Associated Picture Interests at Columbus Auditorium last night. Speakers at the meeting will be Will Rogers, Douglas Fairbanks, Dr. James A. B. Scherer, Rev. Neal Wood and other cinema stars. Due to the absence of several of the large producers, who are in Sacramento consulting on the proposed motion-picture review bill, the election of officers was postponed until next Friday.

A feature of the meeting was the instructing of Wyllie A. Hill, head of the Pacific Playwright League, to inform the interests behind the film portrayal of the life of Clara Smith Hamon that the producers' attitude on the matter remains the same. This action was taken when Clara Smith Hamon, charged with the production of the film, received telegrams from those interested stating that Clara Smith Hamon would appear under a fictitious name and would act in pictures not dealing with her career.

WAR SECRETARY CAUSED SUFFERING TO MEN.

(REUTERS DISPATCH.) NEW YORK, March 31.—F. W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, charged former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker with having caused "great, uncalculated suffering" to disabled men, during a speech tonight at the Town Hall at a meeting to stimulate aid for disabled veterans.

Cheers and groans greeted Mr. Galbraith's assertion: "It was an outrageous, damnable thing that the disabled men suffered at the hands of the former Secretary of War—and I am from Ohio, too."

Mrs. Douglas Robinson was cheered when she read a message from President Harding giving assurances that he meant to do everything possible for the disabled men.

Miss Tess Gordon, dancer, gave a number of interpretations, and concluded with a Hawaiian dance. Others on the bill were Robert Davis, Mary White, Harry Keller, Imperial Trio, a guitar act from Panama; Florence Fisher, Dorothea Bell, Ross Hendricks, Metropolitan Quartet, Little Baby Hall and William Alexander. The program concluded with Barney Weber singing "Red Lewis's last song, 'I'm Coming Back to You, Maybe.'"

WOULD BAR ORIENTALS

IMMIGRATION VITAL MEN-
ACE TO IDEALS.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.) NEW YORK, March 31.—A thorough understanding by the people of Japan and the United States of the immigration troubles centered in California was proposed as the best method of avoiding international difficulties by four Americans and one Japanese, who spoke tonight at the annual Economic Club dinner.

The five speakers were Henry W. Taft, Lothrop Stoddard, writer; Earl A. Parker, secretary of the American League of Justice; former Senator Phelan of California, and Prof. Toykichi Iyemaga, director of the Western Hemisphere, and spoke of it as "a vital menace to the economic standards, the ideal, the civilization of the white inhabitants."

In defense of the Japanese colonies of California, Mr. Parker branded the question as largely political, and quoted statistics to prove Japanese were valuable citizens and in no sense a menace.

Prof. Iyemaga expressed a belief that Japan was prepared to take measures even more severe to prevent immigration to California. He declared that the "trouble with the Yip Island question lay in America's aloofness from the Council of the League of Nations."

(REUTERS DISPATCH.) ROCKFORD (Ill.) March 31.—Two soldiers were killed and two others and a civilian employee at Camp Grant were seriously hurt in a collision between an army mail car and a motor bus tonight on the outskirts of the city.

The dead: Walter Baker, Sixth Motorcycle Company.

Joseph Harvey, Fifty-third Infantry.

Irvin Frank, driver of the bus, the only person in that car, escaped injury. Responsibility for the accident has not been placed, but the police report is that the army car was speeding.

He will introduce western ideas in managing the hotel.

Wife may Have Long-Absent Husband
Declared Legally Dead.

Alfred Roy Trader disappeared nearly fifteen years ago. Yesterday Katherine Leslie Trader applied for a divorce in Judge Walton J. Wood's court.

She testified her husband said good-by and went to Cleveland to work. There had been no trouble between them and he had provided for her. No trace was ever obtained of Mr. Trader.

The court asked Mrs. Trader's attorney to submit authorities on the question of granting a decree on the ground that Mr. Trader was legally dead.

DECLARE MEN FAVOR
REPEAL OF DRY LAW.

(REUTERS DISPATCH.) CHICAGO, March 31.—Men would repeal the prohibition law, but women are voting, and it may continue, former Senator Bailey of Texas told the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association at a banquet here tonight. He said the prohibitionists made it a "mighty slender" dryer than they ever intended to.

Mr. Bailey also called for the kind of government, "the simple, frugal government, which in forty years had less indication on the books than was attributed to one late Congress."

FETE PURVEYORS
OF INFORMATIONWhere-to-Go Guides Guests in Straight Ahead Drive.Theater Party, Dinner and Wonder Trips Provided.Southern California Booster Association Formed.

A good show for the "Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead" movement was made yesterday, at an entertainment for the men and women who sell straight ahead in Los Angeles where to go and how to go there. In the future, those in charge of the information bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and the two bureaus conducted by The Times, will have first-hand information about points of interest.

Forty of them were entertained at dinner and the theater, and each was given tickets, so that without cost he may visit several of the important places of interest and wonder. The idea was originated by C. J. Donaldson, and the affair conducted by him. He formerly was with the information department of the Rock Island Railway, and he knows the problems of the tourist in all their phases.

Mr. Donaldson discovered that a number of the information bureau men and women had not seen the places they recommended, knowing of them only from printed matter and hearsay. He decided that a personal trip would add conviction in a way that no second-hand information could do; that once seen the garden spots and mountain peaks of Southern California would make for an enthusiasm that would be transmitted from the information bureau attendant to the stranger.

The entertainment and the free transportation, that may be used at any time, were donated at Mr. Donaldson's solicitation by the concerns themselves, so that the affair was conducted without cost to the participants.

Poisoned by Uric Acid

It was the discovery by Sir Arthur Garrod, in 1848, that the blood of gouty patients contained uric acid in an excessively large amount. Later scientific men learned that in gout, (also true in rheumatism,) the kidneys do not work properly to throw off the uric acid poison; consequently uric acid crystals are deposited in and about the joints, where an inflammation is set up in the nearby tissues. When for any reason the circulation is sluggish, as in the joints of the toes, crystals formed from uric acid are deposited there, and one suffers from gout; or, when deposited in the tissues or muscles, one suffers from rheumatism, muscular rheumatism or articular rheumatism. To counteract the uric acid and to throw it out of system take tablets of An-uric (sodium urate), three times a day.

"An-uric" was first discovered by Dr. Pierre, of Buffalo, N. Y. Send him (for trial package). (Sold by druggists.)

Slogan of Progress Adopted by Where's-Where Specialists.

First Get-Together Gathering of Directors of Southland Tourists.

Participants. So successful was the first assembly of information people that they decided to form a permanent organization, and thus to work more effectively "Straight Ahead."

They assembled at Bullock's, and went to the Colonial Cafe, where dinner was served in the balcony by courtesy of the management. Each table had a "Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead" miniature signpost, the Los Angeles Floral Company sent flowers for the tables and the Pign's Whistle a box of candy for each of the women. The Caverton Osterich Farm supplied novelties for everybody.

Each guest was presented with tickets, as follows: To Catalina Island by the Wilmington Transportation Company, to Mt. Lowe by the Pacific Electric Company, and to the "Mission Play" by the management. Sylvester L. Weaver, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a brief address. Then the entire party went to Pantheons, where the management had reserved loges. After the vaudeville performance the party was taken to Pauline's, on Broadway, where the management supplied ice cream and cake. Yellow taxicabs donated by the company took each member of the party home.

Arrangements are being made to supply cost-free a meeting place for the information bureau association. The California Theater has offered free tickets for any subsequent entertainment.

TO WORK FOR POWER AND WATER PROJECTS.

Before a good-sized crowd of citizens, George E. Cryer, candidate at the May 3 primaries for the nomination for Mayor, announced his platform at the Cryer-for-Mayor headquarters at the Hotel Stowell last night. He was introduced by Channing Follette, former president of Victory Post, American Legion.

His platform, as expressed, is void of any innovations. Consolidation in city government he declared to be the main issue for which he would work as Mayor.

"Los Angeles needs most of all," he asserted, "a clean, efficient, economical and harmonious business administration."

He emphasized the fact that he would use every prerogative of the office to obtain such co-ordination and harmony in the various branches of the city government, and pledged himself to put duty to the public above self-interest.

He expressed the belief that the city is committed to the proposition of harbor development.

"Such a development is needed," he said, "if Los Angeles Harbor is to be a world port, as it should be. I also believe in and shall work for the development of the Los Angeles citizen realizes that such a program will have an indirect but appreciable effect on the lowering of taxes."

Mr. Cryer was first assistant City Attorney in 1912, and chief deputy District Attorney from 1915 to 1919.

Hours Ahead of IdaHundred Per Cent Mark
by SuperdreadnaughtTwenty-Thousand-Yard
Practice Dates Set

Dropping anchor in the morning shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday, the superdreadnaught Mississippi won her race from the superdreadnaught Idaho more than three hours. At the Idaho was allowed a 21.4 miles per hour, as compared with the Mississippi's speed of 20.4 miles per hour. The navigating officer of the Mississippi brought their ship to the harbor ahead of the Idaho, taking a course about two miles farther inshore than the ship.

Capt. Powers Symington, a man of the Mississippi were congratulated after having gained a mark of 180 per cent of their annual endurance run at here. The Mississippi was the one of three ships taking the far to emerge with a mark of 100 per cent. The Idaho made a mark of 99.84 per cent, while the Mexico came out with a mark of 99.99 per cent.

LONG TEST RUNS.

The test runs of the Mississippi and Idaho were held on Tuesday and lasted twenty-four hours. The first four hours were at full speed, followed by twenty hours at 90 per cent of the full speed. Four hours of prevention run was included in the endurance run.

No casualty of any kind to the performance of the Mississippi but the Idaho's funnel poured a thin column of smoke for minutes that spoiled her chance for a perfect score. The New Mexico was held several weeks when her funnel smoked for a second, spoiling her record. The Idaho was the champion a year ago, when she made a mark of 100 per cent. The Mississippi test run at that time was equal to a minute's smoke.

PREPARE FOR PRACTICE

The seven superdreadnaughts of the harbor are now preparing their annual day long-range practice at 30,000 yards. This time will be engaged in from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. Spotting parties in which twenty-four naval vessels will participate, will also be engaged in during this period.

Windows within a radius of miles of the harbor will shake.

POWER RATE IN CITY LOWERED.

Six Per Cent Cut Ordered by State Commission.

Second Edison Company Chop Made Here This Year.

Electric Railways Will Pay Almost Same Scale.

Six per cent off the present rate of the Southern California Edison Company is the definite rate for this city, established yesterday by the State Railroad Commission. The commission cut the company's surcharge from 27 to 20 per cent in January, and now it has whacked off an average of 6 per cent from prevailing rates for energy, leaving the schedule about 24 per cent higher than it was in prewar days.

The Pacific Electric and Los Angeles railways are to pay the company nine-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour. This is scarcely any change from the present rate. The city asked permission to buy power at the same rate charged the railways, but the commission ruled that the city must pay the schedule as fixed for resale rates generally. Officials of the Public Service Commission said last night they could not understand this clause.

According to the schedule just laid down, which will be effective on meter readings on and after the 15th inst., the company will make 8.3 per cent on its investment. It should take in $15,339,225 during the year, or about $1,337,775 less than it desired to earn. The commission said this would be sufficient to meet financial needs and carry out the development program. The company wanted to add $888,000 to this year's budget, to create a special reserve of $2,000,000 for unforeseen contingencies, but the commission empowered it to create this fund with $888,000 out of additional profits derived from the 27 per cent surcharge last year.

JAILS, FINES FOR MEN WHO ROBBED CARS

Eight Sentenced in Spite of Character Certificates from Their Home Town.

Jail sentences and fines were imposed in the cases of the eight defendants who had either pleaded guilty or been found guilty of looting Southern Pacific freight cars at Bakersfield and vicinity, in U. S. Dist. Judge Trippett's court yesterday.

Much pressure was brought to bear in favor of the convicted men from their friends in Bakersfield, and there was a mass of testimony in regard to the previous good record of the prisoners. Several had been in the Army and their discharges were among the exhibits. Employers of several of the accused promised them work after they got out of the present trouble.

Leonard Vawter, one of the convicted men, a car inspector on the Southern Pacific, said he thought Riley C. Collins, who pleaded guilty to burglarizing a car, was giving him a Christmas present when he presented him with two pairs of shoes and two suits of underwear. He had no idea that the goods were stolen.

Clarence Monteth, brakeman, had a valiant defender in an official of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, and another witness told how the boy had presented his mother with a washing machine. The following sentences were imposed: Bert R. Dewitt, the acknowledged leader of the band of looters, but who assisted the government in putting up the case, was fined $400, or $150 on each of three counts of the indictment; Riley C. Collins, twelve months in the Kern County Jail; Leonard Vawter, five months in the Kern County Jail; Clarence Monteth, a fine of $100; James Irvine, fifteen months in the Kern County Jail; Donald Beaver, ten days in the Los Angeles County Jail; Carl M. Knight, six months in the Los Angeles County Jail. Both Beaver and Knight had already served about three months in jail.

The classification of permits issued for the month of March, 1921, shows 1215 issued for the month of March, 1921.

The Federal Reserve Board report had this to say of building conditions generally in the United States for February: "Building operations increased, both in volume and value, during the past month in all districts except the Pacific coast. The increase was most marked in the territory west of the Mississippi River. The value of the construction was, however, decidedly lower than in February, 1920.

"Accompanying a further reduction in prices, demand for lumber showed a slight improvement in most sections of the country. With the approach of spring, the demand for output is noted in District No. 13 (San Francisco), but output is still only 60 per cent of normal. The four lumber manufacturing associations of District No. 13 report production during the four weeks ending February 26, at $1.5 per cent higher than for the preceding four weeks. Orders for lumber received during the same period increased 11.3 per cent, and shipments 20 per cent. Due to active competition, increase in the volume of business was accompanied by a continuance of price declines. The 118 mills belonging to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association reported for the four weeks ending February 26, a cut of 183,648,000 board feet, shipments of 157,870,000 feet, and orders of 187,488,000 feet. Corresponding figures for the preceding four weeks, with 114 mills reporting, were as follows: 120,865,000 board feet, 125,648,000 feet, and 148,321,000 feet."

DIVORCE IS REFUSED.

Court Not Influenced by Plea Woman Was Forced to Wed.

"It does not sound reasonable that you should be forced into marrying a man in a large city, because he threatened you with a revolver," said Judge Summerfield yesterday in denying Mrs. Sophie Siegel an annulment of her marriage to Louis Siegel.

Mrs. Siegel testified she went through a marriage ceremony, but did not live with her husband, who had wooed her persistently and violently.
